ANGEL WELFARE & EDUCATION CEO STATEMENT 2018

During 2017 Angel Welfare & Education Trust (AWET) had mixed fortunes, on the one hand we delivered £1 Million worth of aid and on the other our co-founder and colleague Dr Qudratulla Khan (May the mercy of Allah be upon him) passed away.

Dr Khan kept busy seeking the pleasure of Allah. Whether he was calling people to the Masjid, dealing with Preston Muslim Girls High School or working as a GP his sole aim was only to seek the pleasure of Allah. At AWET Dr Khan played an active role in guiding and directing the charitable projects. Dr Khan was key to fashioning AWET into a charity that would protect the weak, educate the young and facilitate the needs of Western Kenya. During this process AWET would protect donors and recipients whilst staying on the main objective to keep people on their Imaan.

For AWET the largest Food Distribution to date took place by increasing the amount of food and the number of recipients (circa 17,000) at a total cost of over £400,000. We intend to repeat this food distribution during 2018. Other projects which include widows houses, widows farming, orphan sponsor, clothes distribution, medical camps, Qurbani, school feeding, weddings, ladies programmes amongst others have grown by 10-30% from the previous year in general.

Almost all of the 54 Water wells completed in 2017 were provided in the Mbale district of Uganda, which borders Western Kenya. There is a shortage of water due to the indifferent weather in the region coupled with the difficulty of installing wells. Although we have a small backlog of wells to complete we shall continue to provide more well facilities by increasing the number of teams we have on the ground.

AWET has been blessed with a large core of volunteers who aid in project delivery as well as fundraising with whose assistance we have managed to function with such ease. We would like to thank all donors and volunteers for their help, assistance and prayers.

EDUCATION & TRAINING PROGRAMMES

Our most important, yet most underfunded project, is designed to enable our brothers and sisters to prosper in this life and the hereafter. The Education Centre has been established to teach Muslims about Islam, many of who are new to the religion. A variety of programmes are delivered, catering for everyone including orphans, the youth and Imaams. These teachings are then spread back home in their villages to allow Islam to grow and flourish. The centre is also used as a regional meeting point for Imaams.

Setting up a regular standing order will give you a share in all the good that results from it In shaa Allah.

OBJECTIVES

- To assist in teaching students Islamic beliefs, conduct and way of life.
- To help students read and understand the Holy Quran.
- To assist the students in understanding and respecting others.
- To acquaint students with the life of the Prophet Mohammed Salallahu Alaihi Wa Sallam, his companions and other prophets.
- To provide opportunities for creating and developing leadership qualities amongst the students through various interactive activities.

SCHOOL MEALS

The average daily meal for a Kenyan child is usually one meal consisting of maize and sugar cane. Even basic vegetables and protein are not part of the staple diet. For most children, breakfast and lunch is non-existent. How can we expect children to concentrate and learn under such conditions?

AWET provides porridge for 1200 Students across 8 schools on a daily basis throughout the school year. A regular standing order will provide nourishment for multiple children every day.

WIDOWS

The widows of Kenya are also our mothers. Having lost their husbands, they struggle to come by the very basic necessities to survive. AWET regularly distributes food packages to over 800 widows. Where possible AWET also supports self-sufficiency by providing seed and fertiliser to enable the widows to cultivate their family land. This allows them to grow their own crops to feed themselves and also generate a household income.

ORPHANS

Young children are the most vulnerable members of our global community. Losing one or both of your parents at an early age is unimaginable for most of us. Angel Welfare & Education Trust already supports hundreds of orphans but there are more in need of our help, these are our children and your generous donations will help provide food, clothes, medicine and education. Setting up a small monthly standing order will make a huge difference to a child's life.

“ He who takes care of an orphan, whether he is his relative or a stranger, will be in jannah with me like these two. ”

The narrator, Malik bin Anas raised his forefinger and middle finger for illustration.

CASE STUDY

Salim was a young child who lost his father after previously losing his mother. After fleeing abuse, persecution and an attempt on his life by his appointed guardian, he was found on the streets and adopted by a kind, but poor, elderly lady.

AWET are supporting her to raise Salim.

WATER

Water is an essential part of life many of us take for granted. A lack of access to clean water can lead to dehydration, severe infection and blindness. Imagine the blessings and reward you will receive for quenching the thirst of a child in desert-like temperatures, or from the prayers offered after doing wudhu with the water provided. Why not donate a well or tank in the name of a loved one to benefit their akhirah as many are doing? Our wells provide clean water from the ground while our tanks collect rainwater used for washing, wudhu and farming.

“ The best charity is giving water to drink. ”

IMAM

The Imaam has an essential role of facilitating the needs of the locality. As well as leading the five times daily salaah they are involved in teaching children and supporting the elderly and widows.

The Imaam provides Angel Welfare relevant information of the needs of locals and brings the issues to Angel Welfare who then provide support exactly where required.

The Imaams are an essential cog in the education system, providing classes to children in the masjid and attending schools to teach Islamic Education.

LAVATORY PROJECT

In Western Kenya the need for lavatories is very apparent. We have seen schools with over 500 children sharing just two lavatories. Having to wait in long queues inevitably leads to education being compromised.

We live in a world of convenience where the next travel stop will always have decent arrangements for relief. In the rural areas of Kenya it is either a queue for a lavatory or a bush, even at school, market areas or other places where we expect facilities to be sufficient.

Lavatories are built in blocks of two with a lifespan of approximately 15-20 years. The foundation and walls are made of concrete and plaster, and the roof is of tin sheets. The hygiene tank which serves both lavatories is non-reversible which lasts for 15-20 years. The tank is designed to eliminate odours utilising chemicals and maskers which neutralise foul odours. The non-reversible entry system aids hygiene by preventing incidents or accidents.

MEDICAL & JIGGERS CAMP

In a land where water and food is a concern medical needs are neglected leading to deteriorating situation of illness and lack of income. Malaria is still the largest killer in Kenya. Jigger infestation is another misery for many Kenyans.

Our medical camp runs for a month treating over 5,000 men, women and children. Facilitated by doctors, nurses and pharmacists.
